

Fall 2024 Restricted Course Sections

ENGL 1101/1102 for Non-Native Speakers

The following First-year Writing sections are reserved for ESOL learners. These sections restricted by Permission of Department and capped at 15 seats.

- MWF 1:50-2:40pm:
 - 1101: 25164
 - 1102: 25446
- MWF 3:00-3:50pm:
 - 1101: 25105
 - 1102: 42074

Students should email Clare Reid at clare.reid@uga.edu or fywsupport@uga.edu (both are good!) to request POD. Be sure to include name, 811 number, and the CRN requested.

COMM 1110 for STEM majors

Communication Studies is offering two STEM-specific Public Speaking sections:

- CRN 38757; TR 9:35-10:50am; 253 MLC
- CRN 38772; TR 9:35-10:50am; 367 MLC

To request permission of department to enroll, please email Angie Switon at commadv@uga.edu with the following information:

- Name
- CRN for which a POD is requested
- Major
- 81#

CHEM 1212 and 2211 for Transfer Students

- For the fall semester, CHEM 1212 CRN# 51552 at 10:20-11:10 MWF will have a POD override and is for transfer or at-risk students.
- Likewise, 2211 will have a POD for at-risk students CRN# 13095, 10:20-11:10 MWF, recitation T 3:55-4:45.
- Please send POD requests to chemreg@uga.edu.

MATH restricted sections

- MATH 1113 (precal) is open only to STEM majors until August 1. At that point, the POD is removed and anyone can register for it.
- There are a few MATH 1113 sections reserved specifically for transfer students. If you are a transfer student and eligible for one of those sections, your advisor will tell you.
- MATH 2500 is restricted to Engineering and Intended Engineering majors only. If you are not an Engineering major, and want this course, you should take MATH 2270 (Calculus III for Science and Mathematics; 4 credits) instead.

Fall 2024 CSCI 1301 Lecture and Matching 1301L Lab Combinations

Athena requires that students take a matching lecture and lab for CSCI 1301. Any lab cannot match any lecture. Students should write down the matching CRNs and register for them together by entering the CRNs.
